Data Protection Policy and Compliance for the Public Sector, 28-29 November 2011, Maastricht

This course will offer an explanation of the key concepts and principles of privacy, and then address the latest developments and challenges in the field of personal data use and protection.
How should personal data be protected in a globalised world with increased mobility, in the wake of modern communication & information technologies?
Which data is accessed, exchanged by public authorities, private companies?
How well are the current rules on personal data protection working? What are the expectations of individuals, business, society as a whole?

Numerous practical examples coming from both public/private sectors, combined with a high degree of interactivity, will give participants all they need to know about changes to data protection practice, as well as an insight into how to handle the myriad issues that arise in the workplace on a daily basis such as file organisation, corporate notifications, models.

EURO Doctoral Dissertation Award EDDA 2012 Announcement

The EDDA (EURO Doctoral Dissertation Award) is a EURO instrument. It consists of a prize that is awarded at each EURO-K conference. The purpose of the prize is to distinguish an outstanding PhD thesis in Operational Research defended in the countries having an OR society that is member of EURO. It will be awarded for the sixth time at the closing session of the EURO-2012 conference (Vilnius, July 8-11, 2012).

The EDDA 2012 jury will only consider PhD theses in Operational Research defended between 15 January 2010 and 15 January 2012 (the deadline). The dissertation should have been defended in a University located in a member country of EURO. Since many PhD theses in OR are defended each year, the jury would like to remind supervisors that only outstanding pieces of work have a reasonable chance of winning the award.
